SERBIA NOT IN GREAT DANGER

Expert Military Critics Say Picture of Conditions of Little Balkan Country Is Painted Worse Than Actually They Are—Germans Can't Spare Many Men.

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 25.—While the Austro-German and Bulgarian campaigns in northern and eastern Serbia are being carried out according to the plan, despite fierce Serbian resistance, and the Bulgarians who crossed the Timok and held the town of Prahovo are separated from the Germans who crossed the Danube near Orsova by only a few miles in the south, things are not going so well for the invaders in the latter region. The French troops have joined hands with the Serbs and according to French accounts have inflicted a severe defeat on the Bulgarians at Krivolak, forty miles north of the point where the Saloniki-Nish railway crosses the Serbo-Greek frontier. This success places the Bulgarians in rather an awkward position, for a further advance of the allied army would seriously threaten their flank. In fact, unofficial reports state that the advance of the French, who are being closely followed by the British, has already caused the retirement of the Bulgars toward Strumitsa.

The first desire of the Germans, however, is to open a route through northeastern Serbia and Bulgaria to Turkey and this is on the eve of being accomplished. On the other hand, military writers here do not believe that the position of Serbia is so desperate as has been painted. It is serious, of course, but they point out that the Serbians have many natural defensive positions in the mountains, that with the British, French and other members of the quadruple powers carrying out their determination to help Serbia by rushing reinforcements to Saloniki and other ports, the Bulgars will have an extremely warm reception and that the Germans and Turks, being fully occupied elsewhere, will not be able to send them much help.

British correspondents in France have just disclosed the fact made known to them by the British staff that even after the Anglo-French offensive in September the Germans had the greatest difficulty in securing new reinforcements to meet that adventure and had to call upon men who had returned from Russia for rest to fill gaps in the western lines. From this it is argued that the Germans cannot spare a great many men for the Balkans, especially the Russians are keeping them fairly busy from the Baltic to the Rumanian border.

Austrians Forced to Strengthen.
The Italians by their offensive are compelling the Austrians to strengthen their lines and thereby the capture today of a strongly fortified salient north of Le Mesnil in Champagne have shown that they have not yet finished their effort to break through. The French success is considered important because the capture of this fortified area cleared the ground for another general offensive in Champagne.

For the same reason the British are trying to force the Germans out of their redoubts and from the slag heaps to the south of La Bassée. These, however, are only preparatory operations, while the Italians are in the midst of a great offensive which has already gained for them many valuable vantage positions and according to Rome dispatches may any day place them in possession of the fortress of Gorizia.

The Russians are fighting pitched battles in the Riga and Dvinsk regions in an effort to retake the ground won from them by Field Marshal von Hindenburg last week. The Russian attacks southeast of Riga have been repulsed, according to the Germans, as were those undertaken northwest of Dvinsk. The German forces, however, which crossed the Rionian north of the town of that name, withdrew in the face of a superior Russian army.

It is also claimed by the Germans that Russian attacks in the lake district south of Dvinsk were repulsed and that the Austrians have broken through the Russian lines over a front of 10 miles.

WHEN REPRESENTATIVE HAY OF VIRGINIA ANNOUNCES FAVORABLY AFTER A CONFERENCE WITH WILSON, ARMY AND NAVY PLANS ARE ASSURED.

GARRISON MAKES STATEMENT

Secretary Breaks Silence After Hay's Announcement for First Time Since Directed by President Wilson to Outline Comprehensive Program for National Defense.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Mobilization of the full strength of administration forces in support of the national defense program apparently was assured today when Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the house military affairs committee, after a conference with President Wilson, announced himself in favor of the army increase plans.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military committee, already has approved the proposal to build up a regular and continental army of more than 1,000,000 men in six years. Formal publication of the plans in detail will follow Senator Chamberlain's conference with the president next week. The navy $400,000,000 five-year building program already has been approved by both house and senate leaders.

The importance attached to Representative Hay's announcement was indicated by the fact that soon after it was made, Secretary Garrison broke the silence he had maintained as to army plans ever since he received President Wilson's letter directing him to have prepared a comprehensive review of the nation's military needs and the conditions for strengthening the national defenses. Mr. Garrison issued this statement:

"I am, of course, delighted. This will insure the best possible results. With the aid of Mr. Hay's experience and skill in formulating the measures and his powerful advocacy in support thereof, success in the house is assured. I understand that Senator Chamberlain takes a precisely similar attitude, so that there will be hearty co-operation and united effort along the line. This situation should hearten and enthrall all those who are interested in seeing the vital project properly considered and properly settled."

Representative Hay said he believed the necessary army bills to provide for the proposed increase of the establishment, the organization of the continental army and the increase of present coast defenses and building up of an adequate reserve of cannon, small arms and ammunition would pass the house without serious opposition.

Later this week there will be an important conference between President Wilson and Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, the new democratic leader of the house.

As chairman of the ways and means committee, Representative Kitchin will have much to say regarding the means of raising the additional revenue needed by the government and he and the president will have a comprehensive discussion of the entire situation.

Mr. Kitchin has been reported to be opposed to any material increase in the army and navy but administration hopes to convince him that the program drawn by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels and approved by the president is entirely reasonable.

Washington, Oct. 25.—British authorities have let it be known that the newly established American Overseas corporation will receive the recognition and approval of the British government as soon as it is shown by the character of the men back of the organization and its European connections that it can be guaranteed that goods exported under the corporation's rules will not reach the enemies of the entente allies.

Porter Charlton Given Light Sentence for the Murder of His Wife in Italy

History of Case.

Porter Charlton killed his wife in their villa on Lake Como, June 9, 1910. He was 20 years old and she many years his senior. At the time of their marriage, a short time prior to the tragedy, she was Mrs. Neville H. Castle, a daughter of Henry H. Scott of San Francisco. Charlton's father is Paul Charlton, former federal judge of the district of Porto Rico.

Charlton and his bride were on their honeymoon at Lake Como when he killed her. Placing her body in the lake, he threw it into Lake Como, where it was found by a boatman. Charlton fled from Italy and returned to the United States. He was arrested when he landed at Hoboken and immediately confessed.

In his confession Charlton said that his wife was subject to fits of violent temper and that when enraged she showered abuse upon him. It was during one of these fits, he said, that he seized a mallet and struck her a blow on the head, killing her.

For three years Charlton was held prisoner in Jersey City before he was returned to Italy for trial. Every legal means was used in an endeavor to keep him from being sent back.

During his incarceration in New Jersey he had alienists examined. Charlton declared that he was of sound mind and not responsible for the commission of the crime.

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 25.—The Judson mill, one of the largest of the fourteen cotton mills in this vicinity, will close down Nov. 5 because of labor troubles, according to a notice posted at the mill today by B. E. Green, president and treasurer. Delegates of the United Textile Workers of America organized a local here some weeks ago and recently the management discovered its presence. Seventeen employees were summarily discharged, the management said, because they neglected their work in seeking new members for the union during working hours. The men said they were discharged because they joined the union. About eighty employees walked out when demands for the reinstatement of the seventeen men were not complied with and today 300 employees refused to go to work. The mill was picketed, but it was stated that during the day the strikers secured additions to their ranks.

It is understood that efforts will be made to organize the employees of other mills. No disorder has occurred.

Washington, Oct. 25.—So many adventurous young Americans have been working their way across the Atlantic on the horse and mule transports with the purpose of enlisting in the British army that the British embassy here gave notice today that hereafter such persons would not be allowed to land on British soil.

Many of these Americans have been under age and in some instances their parents have obtained their discharge from the British army and return to the United States.

In the future any Americans reaching British ports as hostlers will be required to continue in the same service or return home.

Como, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 25, 7:25 p. m.—Porter Charlton, the American who has been on trial here on the charge of murdering his wife, was today condemned to six years and eight months imprisonment.

Baron Schiaccia, the presiding judge, before the case, went to the jury, asked Charlton whether he had anything to add to the defense. With tears in his eyes, Charlton exclaimed:

"I trust entirely to Italian justice. I can only say that I am a most unfortunate man."

Both the prosecutor and the counsel for the defense made stirring pleas, the former for the imposition of a heavy sentence and the later, composed of Signors Gattaneo and Michelli Picardi, for acquittal on the ground that the prisoner was totally irresponsible when the crime was committed. Signor Picardi declared that no man in Charlton's condition could be responsible for his actions under any law.

The jury found Charlton only partially responsible and that there were extenuating circumstances. Owing to amnesty, Charlton will serve only twenty-nine days in prison.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 25.—A border bandit confession, claimed to have been received by the sheriff's department from a prisoner not only admits participation in last Monday night's train wreck and murders near here but involves several other Mexicans and leads the officers to believe they are on the trail of the chief offenders in the Texas border terrors of the past three months.

The Mexican who is said by the officers to have confessed its Chano Flores and was arrested Friday in the company of Luciano Chapa, another Mexican, who denies Flores' story. The sheriff's department is making arrests every day now and has eight men suspected of complicity in the past week's depredations.

The supposed confession of Flores says that the prime object of the series of raids has been to "secure liberty and independence for Mexicans in Texas." Robbery and loot, it says, are of secondary importance.

Flores is said to have confessed to taking part in a raid on a ranch at Sebastian, this county, several weeks ago, in which a father, son and two step-sons were killed. After this, Flores' story takes him back to Mexico where he says he remained, taking no further part in raids until the train wrecking near here last Monday night.

The confession declares that Luis de la Rosa and Oreste Pizano, reputed leaders of the "revolutionary" forces, have been in Reynosa, Mexico, for several weeks, maintaining headquarters there.

Flores describes the so-called Texas revolutionary army as a force of about 500 divided into several companies, the one to which he belonged containing from fifty to sixty men. He has given the name of the man whom he charges was captain of the company which made the raids at Ojo de Agua, Progreso, and other points up the river from here, were unknown to Flores, according to his statements, but that all are under the general leadership of De la Rosa and Pizano.

In Jackson's room were discovered molds for making money and a quantity of fraudulent coins secreted by him. He was charged with carrying on a racket of frauds and under carpets, government officers declared.

Before the federal commissioner, Jackson admitted having served a term for counterfeiting in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth.

Pittsburg, Oct. 25.—Thirteen persons were killed and eight injured by a fire in a four story building, the two upper floors of which were occupied by the Union Paper Box company, on the north side here this afternoon. On the dead all were young women employed by the company except one. Many of the bodies were so badly burned as to make identification difficult. Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong at once ordered that the police, city council and fire department make a thorough investigation of the fire. The dead:

Collette Selman, 19.

Sophia Zobok, 22.

The flames started in a pile of straw in the rear of the feed store of James Brown & Co. on the first floor of the building. Wm. C. Kimbell, general manager of the box factory, immediately went to the third and fourth floors and warned the girls employed there to leave quietly. The flames gained headway so rapidly, however, that escape by means of the stairways and fire escapes was soon cut off. Some of the girls attempted to go to the dressing room for their hats and there huddled on the floor. Firemen found a major body of the bodies.

Joseph L. Bash, aged 24, and Seagle, employed on the second floor of the building, were about to jump when they were attracted by the screams of the girls in the window above. The men told the girls to jump. One by one as the girls leaped Bash and Seagle caught them, lowered them as they were and then let them drop to the sidewalk.

C. R. Carlisle, driver of a transfer wagon, drove his wagon into an alley in the rear of the building and threw up a rope to girls on a window above. After making one end fast they slid down the rope to safety.

Margaret Steigerwald, aged 17, who was injured by jumping from a third floor window, said she and five other girls were trapped in the building when somebody closed a door at the head of the stairway on the second floor.

"We got our wraps and started down the stairway," said Miss Steigerwald. "As we reached the second floor some person closed the door at the head of the stairway and we were trapped. We started back to the third floor, but at that time the third floor was filled with smoke. We made for the windows. One girl pushed me away from a window and I was the last to jump."

SUMMARY OF WAR

Heavy fighting characterizes the operations in the Balkans, on the Russian front from the Gulf of Riga down through Galicia, on the Austro-Italian line and in the Champagne region of France. Oct. 25.—The Russian allies and Bulgarians are still gaining ground against the Serbs almost everywhere, but in the South the French have stepped into the arena. The Russian army defeated the Bulgarians at Krivolak, the Saloniki-Nish railway, southeast of Veles, giving them control of the line some 40 miles to the north of the Greek frontier. In the Champagne country the French are busily engaged in warding off German counter attacks delivered with desperate determination against a section of the front known as "La Courbe," which the French had previously taken. Some of their trenches in the center have been recaptured by the Germans, but latest reports are that the opposing forces were still fighting fiercely with grenades and probably with the bayonet.

Want Mississippi Taken from Rivers and Harbors Bill

By The Associated Press.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Separation of the Mississippi river from the general rivers and harbors bill and plans to make such a movement an administration measure at the next session of congress were decided upon at the conference here today of senators and representatives in congress from the Mississippi valley states and officials of twenty levee boards in Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

To perfect the states' congressional delegations of the states interested will meet in Washington Nov. 29 to formulate a bill appropriating funds to be specifically designated for expenditure in controlling and improving the Mississippi river and to inaugurate a campaign to enlist the aid of President Wilson and leaders of the two branches of congress.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas offered the motion, which the conference unanimously adopted, proposing the divorce of the Mississippi river appropriation from other measures. As provided for a federal fund equal to an amount to be provided by the different states bordering on the river to be expended solely in improving the waterway.

Senator Clarke of Arkansas, chairman of the senate committee of commerce, estimated that a federal appropriation of at least $60,000,000 would be needed. The amount to be asked of congress will be determined at the conference to be held in Washington next month.

The proposed administration program of military preparedness came in for discussion before the conference and it was indicated that any movement to reduce rivers and harbors appropriations to permit increased military appropriations would be vigorous. It was proposed by at least several of the southern congressmen that the conference adjourn late today.

Edison Views Parade of 2000 Children

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—For two hours today Thomas A. Edison reviewed a procession of school children from four countries who paraded in his honor, while 2,000 other children sang patriotic songs.

When the last child had passed the reviewing stand Mr. Edison turned to his wife. "It was the greatest thing that ever happened to me," he said. Mr. Edison then greeted several hundred children not physically able to take part in the parade.

Luther Burbank, the naturalist, and Victor Herbert, the composer, reviewed the procession.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Just Breathe Hymel Four Times a Day and Be Relieved.

If a few years ago some one had said you could cure catarrh by breathing in air charged with a healing gas, you would have been ridiculed and it might have been thought that the inventor of this wonderful method of treatment, Hymel, had performed almost miraculous results in treating catarrh and is today recognized by thousands of people as the only advertised remedy for catarrh that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hymel is an inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, medicine dropper and a bottle of Hymel.

Breathe the air of Hymel through the little inhaler druggists furnish with it for a few minutes four times a day and it will help the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation and effects complete and lasting relief.

In Waco there are scores of well-known people who have been relieved of catarrh by Hymel. It does not help you Powers-Kelly Drug Co. will return the money you paid for Hymel. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to their faith in this remedy.

MEXICAN CONDITIONS U. S. MAY TAKE UP FOR IMPROVEMENT MAY EXPLOSIVES PLOT RECAPS LANSING WITH THE GERMANS

GIVES OPTIMISTIC REPORT TO GEORGE BAKMETEFF, RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR, WHO MADE INQUIRIES PROBABLY TO REPORT TO HIS COUNTRY.

Improved Railway Service, Say Consuls' Reports—Mining Industries Are Reawakening—Villa Forces Respect Rights of Foreigners in Chihuahua. Carranza's Power Increases.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Conditions in Mexico showing marked improvement, according to an announcement today by Secretary Lansing. The secretary was able to give an optimistic report of the situation in Mexico. He reported that the Russian ambassador, who made inquiries preparatory, it is believed, to revisiting his government concerning recognition.

The British and French ambassadors recently made similar inquiries and it is now believed that the Carranza government by many European powers will soon follow.

The state department tonight issued what was generally regarded as the most hopeful summary of conditions yet received from consuls and special agents throughout Mexico.

"Advices dated October 23, from Monterey state that through Pullman service has been established between Mexico City for the first time in a year and a half. It is stated that there also is improved train service to Tampico and Matamoros and that telegraph lines are operating between most cities and towns.

A more peaceful feeling is said to prevail and the friendly feeling toward Americans is more manifest than for a long time. The consul general at Monterey informed the department that he is receiving no complaints and that both foreigners and natives are commenting on the improved conditions of the people in general.

Good rains and favorable weather are reported to make the outlook for pasture and the friendly feeling toward Americans is more manifest than for a long time. The consul general at Monterey informed the department that he is receiving no complaints and that both foreigners and natives are commenting on the improved conditions of the people in general.

The department is informed that the foreign office of the de facto government of Mexico states that information has been requested concerning the mine of the Compania Carbonifera de Sabinas in the state of Coahuila, which has been reported to be in operation. It is stated that any measures may be taken to give the guarantees desired by the owners.

Throughout the states of Chihuahua, Coahuila and Tlaxcala, reports are received that there is no change in the situation at the present time.

"The department is informed that the prefect of the Villa forces, Antonio Lezama, is now in charge at Cananea and is maintaining order.

"A telegraphic dispatch dated October 24 in reference to conditions in the state of Chihuahua stated that a passenger train arrived at El Paso on the 23d instant from the Casas Grandes district, bringing about twelve refugees, mostly women and young children. The refugees are reported to have stated that the rights of foreigners have been respected by the Villa forces in the section through which they have passed. Railway communication is said to be open from El Paso on the National railway as far south as the state of Durango."

Juan N. Amador, sub-secretary of the interior in Carranza's cabinet, has been placed in charge of the Carranza agency here during the absence of Eliseo Arredondo in Mexico. The agency gave out the following statement:

"First Chief Carranza has issued a decree renewing the absolute prohibition upon the export of rice, beans, corn, wheat and flour, which has been in force for several months and also forbidding the exportation of peas, barley, lentils, bran and various kinds of sugar and of milk cows, except upon the specific authorization of the Carranza government. The decree also provides for free importation of all the above mentioned articles of prime necessity and of preserved meats and fish, lard, table oil, oats, fruits, garden produce, vegetables, seeds and feeding grains, manufactured products of flour and other cereals, including crackers and macaroni and also common soap.

"Export duties beginning October 20 are announced to be a threat of 10 per cent on mineral oils, cotton, rice, tobacco, textiles, sisal hemp product, beer, woods of various kinds, pearls and bananas."

Villa's Advance Guard Arrives.

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 25.—Major Cervantes and approximately two hundred soldiers of the advance guard of the Villa army invading Sonora arrived at Agua Prieta, opposite here, today and surrendered to General P. Elias Calles, the Carranza commander. Sonora's unity was arranged before hand by long distance telephone.

It was stated that Cervantes and his men escaped only after a sharp fight with pursuing Villa cavalry at Escondido. A detachment of Carranza troops aided the deserters. A number of troops were killed and wounded on both sides.

VILLA TROOPS LEAVE SONORA.

Estimates Place Size of General's Army At About 8000 Men.

By The Associated Press.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 25.—Mormons from Colonia Durban arriving at the border today from Casas Grandes say that all the Villa troops had departed from the border about 200, who remained at Casas Grandes guarding a large quantity of dynamite. These men said Villa had taken out about 8000 troops, with him, and that ten trains he brought to Casas Grandes and 800 to the train.

The Mormons came out because of what they took to be a threat from Villa. While he did not molest any of their homes while at Casas Grandes he took all their forage and food products and finally on leaving for Sonora took their horses. The Mormons called on him to body and informed him that if he did not release their horses they would have no way to raise crops next year. They found him very surly. He declined to shake hands, and in reply to their importunities said:

"You may not need the horses for another crop—I don't think you will."

Ten of the men who were discussing the matter with him immediately decided to come to the border. They said the other colonists, between 500 and 1000 men, women and children, will remain for the time being. All would have come to the border when Villa first began to arrive there, but were unable to get transportation and have now decided to take chances since the troops have gone and they consider the force is past.

The refugees report the Mormon academy in session, with a large number of pupils attending.

IF STATE DEPARTMENT DETERMINES ALLEGED GERMAN LIEUTENANT IS TELLING TRUTH, VIGOROUS REPRESENTATIONS WILL BE MADE.

PLAN TO DISABLE SHIPS

Act Considered an Offense Against the United States of Grave Character—Not Enough Is Yet Known of Matter for Official Statement to Be Made.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 25.—If the state department determines that Robert Fay is telling the truth in his story to the New York police of how he, a lieutenant in the German army, was sent to this country by the German secret service for the purpose of disabling by explosives steamships leaving American ports for Europe, the matter probably will be made the subject of vigorous representations to the German government.

The state department officials were much interested today in press accounts of the confession said to have been made to Police Commissioner Woods and it was said that a report on the case was expected tomorrow from agents of the secret service who assisted in arresting Fay and his alleged accomplices.

The American government, the officials said, would regard such an action as Fay attributes to the German secret service as an offense against the United States of grave character.

It was explained, however, that not enough was known of the matter officially to hazard a presumption regarding the form any representations which might be made would take.

As to Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Pape of the German embassy, it was said that if Fay told the truth in his so-called confession no blame could attach to them. Fay is quoted as having said that Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Pape when approached by him refused to have anything to do with his scheme and advised against it.

All information in the hands of the state department is said to lead officials to believe that any action toward capturing Fay and his alleged co-conspirators could be taken by the federal authorities. In fact, it was pointed out that the government might appear more in the nature of the defender than prosecutor when the men came to trial in the New York or New Jersey courts, for the reason that it is bound to see that all rights of Fay as a subject of Germany are protected.

PLOT UNCOVERED.

Details of Conspiracy Found Out by Confession.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 25.—Details of a plot to hamper the shipments of munitions of war to the allies by placing clock-worked bombs on the rudders or propellers of ships so timed that the ships would be disabled on their way across the Atlantic, were disclosed today in the confession of one of five men charged in a complaint filed with a United States commissioner with conspiracy to violate a federal statute.

Following the confession of Robert Fay, a lieutenant of the Sixth Saxony infantry, who admitted that he came to this country last April through an agreement with the German secret service to blow up or delay steamers laden with war supplies for the allies, Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the secret service tonight filed before United States Commissioner Houghton a complaint in which Fay and four other men were charged with promoting the conspiracy. The hearing on the federal charge was set for November 4.

Fay confessed that while on the battlefield he talked with his superior officers about a device to blow up ships, that later his idea of coming to America and carrying his scheme through was well received by the German secret service, that he came well enough supplied with money to act on his own responsibility and that he talked with Captain von Pape, military attaché, and Captain K. Boy-Ed, that attaché of the German embassy about the plan but they had refused to have anything to do with it.

The confession of Fay, who said he had been decorated with the Iron Cross for fighting, covers his arrival April 23 last, his making of clock-worked bombs since then and his experimenting with explosives along the Hudson river. Effects of War Are Seen Everywhere in City of London

London, Oct. 25.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—"Can you get away from the war in London?" is often asked by Americans in private letters, "or is it everywhere in the forefront?"

In answer it can truthfully be said that it would be a most thoughtful individual who could forget the war in London. While the mourning dresses are not so numerous as in Paris, where it seems as if two-thirds of the women are gowned in black, they are increasing here as the British death roll lengthens. But the war is omnipresent in countless manifestations.

There has been no "society," as it was known before the war, for over a year. Even the dinner party and the theatre party have passed away, except those of the most informal character. More than half the men in the stalls at the theatres are in khaki and only a few of the ladies with them wear evening gowns.

Incidentally the theatres are one by one putting on revues, the demand being altogether for trivialities and not dramatic excellences, as a relief from the strain. The men on leave or those about to start for the front care only for amusement of the lightest character and go only where they can smoke. As a result there are more revues and more theatres permitting smoking in London than ever before.

The shops tell of the national turning away from luxuries. An American woman says the Bond street jewellers will allow one almost to fix his own price, and the fashionable dressmaking establishments are either closed or devoting most of their small staffs to mourning or street dresses.

One lucky class are the photographers. The cheaper studios are rushed to keep up to their orders for photographs.

OWNERS will lend Old Manor House, furnished, in Midlands, for six months to British, French or Belgian officers.

CARRANZA TROOPS DETAINED.

Southern Pacific Will Not Transport the Dilapidated Rolling Stock.

By The Associated Press.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 25.—The 5000 Carranza troops en route to the defense of Agua Prieta which are to move over United States territory were held at Piedras Negras tonight and may be detained there for several days.

The Southern Pacific railroad, over which the troops are routed from Eagle Pass, Texas, to Douglas Ariz., would not transport the Mexican troops in their own cars, which are declared defective and dangerous and the Southern Pacific offers to supply good equipment of their own is the Carranza government will pay extra charges.

The equipment in which the men and horses are travelling consist of box cars, cattle cars and flat cars, with a few dilapidated coaches for the officers. The Southern Pacific can furnish equipment from points within 150 to 200 miles of the border, but it will take 24 hours to get the cars to Eagle Pass and the Carranza authorities are insisting upon rapid transportation through the States.

Coroner's Jury Holds Killing of Boy to Be Unjustified

By The Associated Press.

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—The killing of Chester Nolen, one of two boys shot by Policemen William Cahill and Samuel Shammoo last Friday when they failed to obey an order to halt, was held to have been unjustified by a coroner's jury today. The bullet that killed Nolen probably fatally wounded Frank Warr, his companion on a motorcycle. Both officers fired several shots. The verdict stated Nolen was killed "by one of two officers—Wm. Cahill and Samuel Shammoo." Cahill and Shammoo were charged with the murder of Nolen.

Policemen Cahill and Shammoo previously had asked for a complaint charging the policemen with manslaughter. This was done after a coroner's jury had returned a verdict declaring the shooting unjustified and holding Cahill and Shammoo responsible for Nolen's death. The district attorney refused to lighten the charge and instead issued a complaint charging murder, which was sworn to by the dead boy's mother.

As for the daily papers, it is hardly an exaggeration to say that they publish nothing that does not directly or indirectly relate to the war. Here and there is a paragraph or two that is not so directly related to the war, but it is consequently in an out-of-the-way corner as if it were a mere space-filler. The "small ads" continue their stories of war's effects. Here are three from a single issue of the Times:

YOUNG officer, leaving again for the front, is anxious to meet some one who will guarantee his mother and invalid sister the necessities of life while away.

GENTLEMAN, ruined through war and about to join army, would be glad to meet gentleman willing to adopt two little sons in event of being killed.

Society Notes

Let's all go to hear "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" at the Orpheum. Anything Kate Douglas Wiggin writes is entertaining and wholesome.

We note intimation of a change in flowers for funerals. This is, instead of the plethora at the time of laying away, thoughtful friends, a week or two later, send boxes to the home of sorrow. We rather like this lingering evidence of sympathy.

When the Waco society girls air their 1916 dancing frocks at the Cotton Palace society ball watch for the Vernon Castles skirt ruffles. These are the novelty for ballroom right now.

With the mainly little pages already announced, there are companions for attention in the queen's coronation in the little Geer sisters, Sallie C. and Alma Louise, Mary Alice Baker and Kyle McKinney.

We are going to tell just this much of the secret from society ball plans. The debutantes are to be featured. And this is as it should be since there is no Philo ball for the 1916 girls.

The time has arrived for your annual reading of Bobbie Burns' "Hallowe'en." Con these verses and you will be more deeply inoculated with the Hallowe'en spirit.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Lovelace are leaving today for Bastrop, where Mrs. Lovelace will be matron of honor for her cousin, Miss Anna May Trigg, whose wedding is an event in Bastrop society for Wednesday.

In noting the theft of five thousand dollars worth of diamonds from a visitor to San Antonio, was also to note that this visitor was Mrs. Land, former guest of the W. M. Foster household, and hostess to a Waco party in the Land home at New Braunfels.

The Wilson-Galt ripple seems to have given us all sorts of new words. Immediately the engagement announced, we had revival of the long neglected "honeymoon." Already this is one of our fashionable wedding words. Next we have the president and his wife to be "Saturdayed" down in Baltimore. Goodbye to the week end visit from this on. Whatever the first lady of the land does, so must we. Henceforth we "Saturday," not "week end" to see our friends.

We note the men are to establish an information bureau during Cotton Palace season. It is to be hoped every single woman will be self-constituted information bureau to the thousands of visiting women.

Now that Mrs. W. W. Cameron, Mrs. Irving Swann, Mrs. William Holt, Mrs. T. E. Jarman, Mrs. Harold Shear and Miss Frances Van Boddie visited the kennels at the Dallas fair it is predicted that they will do no small part in making the second kennel for the Cotton Palace up to the standard of more advanced dog centers.

One more atride cityward has come in the L. C. Puckett auto funeral and casket cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheeler arrive from Tacoma in time to see the opening of the Cotton Palace. They will remain during Cotton Palace season, guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sturges at the Kyle.

When we don our high crown plush plaid hat with its silver buckle let us remember we are going back to the days of our Puritan ancestors. Who does not recall the painting of the Puritans walking over the fields for Sabbath devotion, each with one of these hats?

The slogan "Safety First" has reached the Mother Goose Rhymes. Paraphrases are being made and the book revised so to speak, placed in children's books corners. Right here, mothers of Waco, begin the practice of "safety first" by warning your little ones of corner conduct. This means, see that there is no diagonal crossing of street corners in the down town section. Automobile drivers are complaining bitterly of the caution imposed upon them especially at Austin and Fifth intersection and at Eighth and Austin.

Have you telephoned the sanitary officer about that vacant lot near you, the one overgrown with weeds? If you have not, do this much to have the city spick and span for Cotton Palace visitors.

When Griffith's stupendous "Birth of a Nation" reaches us, remember it took five months to produce, cost $300,000 and introduces 15,000 persons with 3,000 horses.

We are still enjoying these glorious Sunday afternoons in our half empty cars, having all sorts of good time nursing our own selfishness.

CORDIAL WELCOME GIVEN MISS JULIA CHARLTON

In the appearance of Mabel Riegelman in concert tonight, the return to the girlhood home features her accompanist. This is Miss Julia Charlton, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Charlton, were formerly connected with Baylor university faculty. Mrs. Charlton evinced interest in city activities. She was prominent in the Woman's Club and influential in women's activity. Miss Charlton, the only child, when quite the tiny girl, gave evidence that music was her God-given talent. She began at Baylor university to pursue piano study, and she has never abandoned her life work. Miss Charlton has played in concert both in and out of Texas. Her old home friends are ready today to give her personal welcome as well as cordial welcome. She is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Hale.

MRS. FOREST GOODMAN FOR CULINARY DEPARTMENT

As chairman of the Culinary Department of the Cotton Palace, Mrs. Forest Goodman announces that she has provided for two special days, cakes on Wednesday after the Palace opens and Old Settlers' day for breads. The judges will not act at this time, and later, Mrs. Goodman will announce plans and time for the entrance. In the meantime, she emphasizes the fact that entries for the department except these two special features are to be made on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday previous to the opening of the Palace on Saturday. Nothing will be received after 6 o'clock on Wednesday. The idea is that the judges enter the Palace on Thursday morning, make their awards and render their reports before the Palace proper opens on Saturday.

As an exhibit, Mrs. Goodman is to present the evolution of the kitchen. She is especially desirous of an old-fashioned hanging pot and will appreciate the loan if any one has such an article and will report to her.

This chapter is number "fifty-nine," which means Daughters of the American Revolution are chartered to this number. The national colors, blue and white, are also seen in the cover and cord. The motto embodies the purpose of the Daughters of the American Revolution. "Their remembrance shall be as lasting as the land they honored." The Vaca chapter is fifteen years old, on December 5. Notice to Subscribers Delivery routes in the City of Waco are in the hands of independent carriers, who buy their papers at wholesale price. Subscriptions accounts are due them, not the Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price, which they receive from subscribers. This margin of profit is such that they cannot afford to extend credit, except month by month. They are not required, and they are advised against, delivering the paper to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hard working men and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

The Morning News should be delivered throughout the city of Waco by 6:30 a. m., and subscribers failing to receive the paper at that time will confer a favor by phoning the Circulation Department, both phones 1122, and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Morning News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the management.

A YOUNG MAN WITH A FUTURE.

The Texan, the daily paper published by the University of Texas students, tells the very interesting story of a young man of Stephenville, Erath county, who, ambitious to get an education, walked all the way from his home to Austin, picking cotton as he went to meet the expenses of his night's lodgings and meals. He arrived at his destination broke, but not discouraged, and at once offered to work to make his board at the university and to give his personal note to the auditor for his registration fees.

Further details are lacking in the story, except the information that the young man is now looking for work with which to meet his note and pay his way through the year. There are those who will think he was fanatical in starting off to school without at least some money in advance, but our sympathies are with him, for we believe he will make good. Had he not been in earnest he would hardly have made the journey from Stephenville to Austin on foot, and he would not have undergone that embarrassment which must necessarily have been his in going up to the university authorities and telling them that he wanted to go to school there but was absolutely broke.

From all indications he means business and should be encouraged. But he will get along some way, even though little encouragement is offered him, for young fellows who have passed through what he has already have a way of overcoming all sorts of obstacles, whether they get much co-operation or not. Without having seen the young man or even knowing his name, we are willing to hazard a guess that he will be heard from later on and that in subsequent years those University of Texas historians who pen interesting reminiscences of young men and women who have fought their way to success over the most stubborn of difficulties will not overlook the story of the young man who walked over 200 miles to school, picking cotton en route, and arriving at Austin dead-broke.

Says the Cameron Herald: "We actually believe the man with a full crib of corn and a smokehouse full of meat can vote more intelligently than the fellow who has not, especially if it is the latter's fault. It's hard to convince a born failure that the government is not to blame for his lack of success, and he invariably makes an effort to reform the government instead of himself. And he always imagines he knows exactly what the trouble is, too." A good many false notions have been put into the farmers' heads by the politicians who wanted to profit by their votes. The intelligent newspapers are joining other agencies in trying to overcome these false impressions and disseminate intelligence where ignorance, superstition and suspicion have dwelt before. The farmers are reading and thinking more than they used to and that is one of the most hopeful tendencies of the day.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, the noted woman superintendent of the Chicago schools, announces that she will resign that position next month. Evidently she is not a democrat, if we are to accept the definition of what constitutes a democrat proposed by several of our Texas exchanges.

We are just wondering if the Dallas fair management did not slip a valuable consideration to the weather man preceding the opening of this year's exposition. Better weather could not have been made to order.

TEXAS PENSION FRAUDS.

Under the above heading, the Dallas Evening Journal discourses as follows: "J. C. Jones, state pension commissioner, beginning an investigation of pensioners in Dallas county, predicts that many will be removed from the rolls. This supplements his recent declaration of belief that many persons are fraudulently drawing pensions.

"It is important not merely that the state's revenue should be protected from fraud, but also that worthy veterans should be protected, for the loss really falls upon them. After provision has been made for the totally disabled, the remainder of the pension fund is distributed in equal shares to all persons upon the rolls. Obviously, therefore, the unworthy profit at the expense of the worthy.

"The investigation which Commissioner Jones is making probably will result in much good. That it will accomplish all that is needful may be doubted. The pension law is very loose in its definitions and requirements and it does not set up the proper machinery to guard against fraud.

"One thing needed is publication of the pension rolls. This done, the Veterans' camps and the public would do nearly all the rest."

The Evening Journal is eminently correct; publicity as to those who are drawing pensions will prove the greatest corrective force the commissioner could possibly introduce and we hope he will adopt the plan. The Morning News will publish, without cost, the list for this and other counties in this section of the state and we feel confident the papers of the state generally will co-operate in the matter.

Several months ago this paper urged publicity as a means for correcting the scandalous abuses that have been permitted to creep into the award of federal pensions and abuse that is not only a disgrace, but actually a burden to the people of this country. The publication of the names of those who are drawing federal pensions in the papers of the immediate section in which the pensioners live would show that thousands of persons are on the rolls who have no moral right to be there. And though the people have been slow to wake up to the enormous waste and graft connected with the distribution of federal pensions, the publication of the names of the persons to whom the government is paying over the money would prove an eye-opener that would result in an immediate demand for a wholesale reduction in the pension awards.

Let there be light.

SWIMMING POOL SANITATION.

Ninety-one large municipalities in the United States have established public swimming pools to meet the demand for knowledge of swimming. Swimming pools are on the increase. The United States public health service publishes an article by Wallace A. Manheimer, Ph. D., of Columbia university, on the results obtained from a careful examination of six swimming pools.

It is pointed out in the report that in swimming in polluted water, typhoid fever, conjunctivitis and other diseases may be acquired. The report gives in detail the results of the bacterial analyses made of the various pools and of the effects of refiltration and chemical disinfection. It is pointed out that when the water is unfiltered it is apt to be cloudy, thereby making the danger of accidental drowning very great. When refiltration is practiced the water becomes clear and this danger is obviated. The report concludes that the cubic capacity of a pool affects its sanitary condition; that the process of adding dilution water is an efficient means of reducing the number of bacteria in the water, and that the supervision of the plant and the class of attendants are also important factors in pool sanitation. The combination of refiltration and disinfection by the use of calcium hypochlorite renders the sanitary condition of the water excellent. Many of the colleges and secondary schools of the United States have as a graduation requirement, a proven ability to swim. This important field of athletics should be surrounded by every sanitary safeguard.

They got W. R. Davidson's official goat at the meeting of the Texas league at Dallas Sunday, but they cannot deny the fact that he gave the league a fair and efficient administration and retires from his position with the respect of the patrons of baseball in this state, even if he does not share the support of some of the league magnates. His successor, Walter Morris, a compromise man, is also a good fellow and will doubtless make an efficient official.

News from Vienna is to the effect that Dr. Constantin Dumba has been ennobled, following his recall from the United States. We harbor no ill will against the indiscreet doctor, but we hope Austria will send no more of his kind to this country on either diplomatic or matrimonial missions.

At least Harvard cannot boast that it was she who put the can to those Ithacans.

TROUBLES OF THE CITY MAN.

Often it is recited that the City Man, just like that—City Man—and that brands him, stands at the larger end of the Horn of Plenty and that the horn is forever pouring a flood of Golden Shiekels into his waiting hands. The country man has been raised to that belief, according to the Mobile Item. He is prone to consider his brother on the other side of the corporation line as an avaricious skinner just waiting to take hide, tallow and eyebrows of any proposition that comes by his way. Because he occasionally flits through the countryside in his big automobile, he gets the reputation of being the Spoiled Son of an ake of luxury, too often living off the toil of the man in the field.

Maybe that hits the bulls-eye sometimes, but not always. Just a word for the city man. Sometimes he puts on a "good front" and keeps up such appearances as wearing a family automobile, a made-to-order suit and a prosperity grin because if he didn't he would be clear down on the under edge of things trying to peer over. Sometimes all of those outward evidences of a luxury-loving disposition are only supported by an inner conscience that if he lets go his toe-hold for an instant he might as well shut his eyes, take his position on a sunny corner of the main street and hold out his hat.

Whenever it's a proposition to get a convention for the city, he has to dig. Whenever there is a monument to be built, he has to dig. Whenever his church gives one of those free-for-all bazaars, he has to dig. When the social committee comes around for entertainment funds, he has to dig. When the city and country is to be exploited by advertising, he has to dig. When a subscription list is started for the good roads that he intends using jointly with the farmer, he has to dig. For this, that and the other thing, he digs, digs and then digs some more, and sometimes he runs splinters under his finger nails scraping the bottom of the cash box. He works as many hours as the man in the country and he trembles when the markets go down or up. He bears the burden of credit for many things.

He serves on committees for the public weal and he shoulders the responsibility if it sometimes turns unfortunately into public woe. And, above all else, he would like to have a better understanding with the man in the country just to let the latter know that being a city man isn't all one joyous round of motor rides, tango parties, week-end golf, sunshine and sherbet, as some of those who don't understand will insist on believing.

The city man didn't ask for this little defense. It is given gratis and it's a very few things that he gets gratis when you come down to that.

We are indebted to State Topics for the following declaration of the Hon. J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, congressman-at-large from Texas, on the question of national preparedness, and those who know the gentleman from Hopkins county will recognize the statement as being very true to both form and substance: "I am unalterably opposed to an increase in our army or navy until a law is passed to imprison, banish or court-martial and shoot the managers of banks, bond syndicates or munition factories who finance and equip both sides of a conflict for their personal aggrandizement, just like any other spy or traitor would be dealt with, and until every $100,000 of a corporation is made a war in time of war to maintain a soldier in the defense of its country, the same as corporations are now legally accredited with manhood for commercial purposes without soul or pity." Evidently, Bro. Davis will not be named one of the administration's floor leaders.

That mass meeting in behalf of the public nurse for the winter months, which has been called for the public library at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, is an important one and should be largely attended not alone by the women but by the men as well.

According to the Charleston News and Courier, the British seem to think it was Sir Edward Grey who put the balk in Balkans. And he also doubtless had a part in the program, which failed, of trying to turn the key on Turkey.

The public servant in this state who fails to come to the Cotton Palace on Public Servants' Day is going to miss something that is worth his while. Wacoans do not do things by halves and on this occasion they are going to "put the big pot in the little one."

We are very fond of optimists, but when our friends, the republicans, talk of sweeping the country in 1916 we think they are not only optimistic but visionary. From twelve electoral votes in 1912 to 266 in 1916 would be going some, however.

We are not overly familiar with the personal history of Pocahontas, but from the number of persons who trace their lineage back to her we are confident she was not an advocate of race suicide.

MARLIN GUARDS ARE DOING HARD STUDY

MILITARY COMPANY MEMBERS PLEADED AT PROPOSED GOVERNMENT PLANS.

All Want to Be Branch of the Regular Army and Under Federal Control.

Special to the Morning News.

Marlin, Tex., Oct. 25.—Officers in the B. C. Clark light guards are preparing to get down to hard study in order later on to take examination for entry into the regular service of the United States, if the present intentions of the war department materialize. Captain Jameson and Lieutenants Robinson and Jim Dewberry are all enthusiastic over the possibilities that the present national guard will be taken out of state control, federalized and placed on a part pay basis, which is the substance of rumors which have sifted out of army officer circles in this state.

Some officers are stated to be confident that the plan of developing home defenses as a matter of preparedness, which has been outlined by Secretary of War Garrison and approved by President Wilson, will embody the federalization of the national guard organization.

It has been pointed out that those who join the national guard now will be on the ground floor for the realization of the benefits that will be received by the national guard officers and men, provided this plan is adopted. The promised "part pay" and the chance to get promoted into the ranks of the regular army are thought by some to be excellent opportunities that some men will not care to overlook. It is practically certain that the war department will draw upon the national guard for officers and men for the reserve and continental armies contemplated in the scheme of national defense.

Cotton Seed Prices Drop.

Special to the Morning News.
Marlin, Oct. 25.—The local cotton seed market has been practically abandoned by buyers, and the price today fell to $33 from $35 that was offered Saturday. Numbers of Falls county farmers are holding not only cotton but seed as well for the higher prices they expect to see within the next few months.

Fire Near Marlin.

Special to the Morning News.
Marlin, Oct. 25.—Sunday morning at 12:15 a small fire occurred on the W. J. Abbott place, just outside the city limits, in which a tenant house valued at about $300 was burned down. No report has been made regarding the probable cause of the fire. The house was tenanted by negroes.

Jail Nearly Completed.

Special to the Morning News.
Marlin, Oct. 25.—Workmen on the $25,000 county jail building state that the structure will be ready for occupancy by the end of next week if no accidents happen during the next few days tending to delay their work. After the building has been received by the commissioners a three days' party reception is to be held by the commissioners, in order that the tax payers of the county may see what they are securing for their money.

Wacoans at Marlin.

Special to the Morning News.
Marlin, Oct. 25.—The following people were registered at Marlin hotels: Mrs. George N. Rotan, Mrs. Clint Padgett, George N. Rotan, Jr., J. D. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Stultze.

John Winfrey Dead.

Marlin, Oct. 25.—John Winfrey, aged 38, died at his residence in this city this morning at 9 o'clock of heart failure. Interment will take place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Besides his wife the deceased leaves his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Winfrey, four brothers in Marlin, Joe, Embree, Edgar and Russell, a half-brother at Big Springs, H. D. Kenester, and four sisters, Miss Katie Winfrey and Mrs. Birdie Hamilton. Mrs. Winfrey was the widow of Webersville and Mrs. J. L. Carnes of Waco.

County Convict Found Dead.

Special to the Morning News.
Dallas, Oct. 25.—The body of A. T. Trapp, county convict, serving a sentence on conviction of aggravated assault, was found in a horribly decomposed condition late Sunday at a point two miles from Irving. An inquest was held today and a postmortem examination. No wounds were found. Witnesses were sent before the county grand jury. Foul play is suspected. Justice Hornum withheld his verdict after the inquest. The man apparently had been dead two or three weeks. A straw hat was the means of identification.

Three Injured in Jitney.

Special to the Morning News.
Dallas, Oct. 25.—Miss Alma Jensen and Miss Eloise Jensen of Battle Creek, Mich., and Miss Velma Jacobs of Kewanee, Ill., were seriously injured this morning when a jitney bus in which they were riding collided with a bread wagon in East Dallas. The young women are members of an operatic company which was to have given a concert in Garland tonight. They were en route to Dallas when the accident occurred. Miss Alma Jensen is dangerously hurt.

Boy Prevents Wreck.

Special to the Morning News.
Dallas, Oct. 25.—John Chisholm, 17, probably saved a disastrous wreck of a double-decker passenger train on the Santa Fe road yesterday morning east of Dallas. He found a broken rail and flagged the train, it stopping within a few yards of the broken rail.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition.

Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are untarnished, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from harmful drugs—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised.

TO ELECT PERMANENT HEAD STATE UNIVERSITY

DR. BATTLE, ACTING PRESIDENT, FAVORED BY FIVE MEMBERS OF REGENTS.

Conference Held With Governor, Who Is Opposed to Battle—All Refuse to Discuss.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—The election of a permanent president is the most important business scheduled to come before the meeting of the board of regents of the University of Texas in this city tomorrow. Whether Dr. W. J. Battle, who has been acting as president, is to be selected permanent head of the state's largest institution of learning is problematical. It has been stated that earlier in the year Dr. Battle was looked upon with favor by five members of the board of regents, a sufficient number to cause his election. Only a few of the regents have arrived and they have held a conference with the governor, who some months ago wrote a letter to the board of regents stating plainly that he was opposed to Dr. Battle as permanent head. The regents now here declined to discuss the matter. Dr. M. Faber of Tyler said he "had no idea what the board would do."

Waitress Not a Servant.

By The Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—Answering an inquiry submitted by the state industrial accident board, the attorney general's department today held that a waitress at a fashionable club is not a "domestic servant" under the employers' liability law; that a domestic servant within the meaning of this law is one in the employ of the master, engaged principally in the master's household, and who is actually or substantially a member of the household. This means that waitresses in fashionable clubs in Texas may participate in the benefits of this law.

Sunday Policy Binding.

By The Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—It was held today by the attorney general's department, in answer to a question submitted by the state fire insurance commission, that a fire insurance policy issued and dated on Sunday is binding on the company and is a valid contract; that the words "trader in any business whatsoever," as used in the penal code, article 302, have no reference to an insurance company or agent engaged in the insurance business. This ruling is decidedly important to cotton brokers, who in many instances are compelled to insure cotton on Sunday.

State Bank Resources.

By The Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 25.—Resources of the thirty state banks maintaining savings departments, at the close of business Sept. 30, 1915, amounted to $3,752,940, according to a condensed monthly statement made public today, and of this amount, $2,429,456 is first liens on real estate. Of the liabilities $2,794,455 is deposits, $36,727 net undivided profits. Required reserve is $557,168, while the actual reserve on hand is $714,512, which latter amount is $157,403 in excess of the legal requirement.

BIG CROWDS AT FAIR.

Veterans of North Have Their Day. Inventors Meet Tomorrow.

Special to the Morning News.
Dallas, Oct. 25.—Today saw another great crowd at the Texas State fair, though the attendance was nothing to compare with Saturday and Sunday, when more than 240,000 people passed through the gates. Veterans who wore the blue in the war of the sixties had their day at the fair today. Auxiliary organizations also celebrated their day today. There were few new features.

One of the special events of the state fair season is due tomorrow, when the inventors of Texas will meet. This gathering will bring to Dallas hundreds of the industrial scientists of the state. A special reception committee has been appointed in Dallas, and a program has been arranged for the morning. It is also Hardin School Day.

The afternoons and evenings of the final week at the fair have been left open for the visitors to the exposition to see the splendid vaudeville show at the coliseum. Two performances daily are given, staged in the true vaudeville settings. State fair officials and employees were still talking of the tremendous crowds which thronged the grounds Saturday and Sunday. The success of the 1915 season was assured by the week-end.

Dallas May Get Auto Factory.

Dallas, Oct. 25.—That Dallas is being considered as the future home of the Wichita Motor company was announced today by J. G. Culbertson, manager of the company, now located at Wichita Falls. Some definite announcement will be made within the next few days. Should this company move to Dallas it means the building of a $500,000 plant.

Continuance in Schmidt Trial.

By The Associated Press.
Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—Continuance of another week was granted by the superior court in the trial of Matthew S. Schmidt, charged with murdering in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building October 10, 1910. The delay was requested by Nathan Coghlan, one of the two attorneys selected as leading counsel for Schmidt after the death of Attorney Charles Fairall.

New Policy by the State Department as Regards Passports

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 25.—A new policy was announced tonight by the state department with reference to the issuance of American passports to writers who intend to visit the war zones of Europe. Every effort is to be made to prevent the misuse of the American passport for unneutral purposes. The announcement says:

"The number of newspaper writers who have applied for passports has caused the department to rule that hereafter it will issue passports to writers who contemplate visiting belligerent countries only when they are regularly accredited to the department by responsible journals or recognized press associations."

"The department will not issue passports to individuals who are paid or expect to be paid by the agents of foreign governments for matter which they may publish."

"The object of this ruling is to insure the continued neutrality of the United States and to prevent individuals from putting their safety in jeopardy."

For Acid Stomachs Use Magnesia

Quickly Stops Sour Burning Feeling and Makes Digestion Painless.

The almost universal use of magnesia by physicians and specialists in the treatment of stomach troubles, is due to the fact that it stops food fermentation and neutralizes the acid—the direct cause of nearly all stomach troubles. Of the many forms of magnesia, such as oxides, citrates, carbonates, sulphates, etc., the most suitable and efficient, and the one prescribed by leading specialists is bisulphated magnesia, a teaspoonful of which in a little warm water immediately after eating will instantly neutralize the acid, stop fermentation, and thus insure painless normal digestion. Care should be taken to get bisulphated magnesia, as its action is infinitely more effective. It is also, by the way, usually stocked by druggists in convenient compressed tablets as well as in the ordinary powder form. Stomach sufferers and dyspeptics who follow this plan and avoid the use of pepsin, charcoal, soda, mint, and other medicines are invariably astonished to find that the stomach, relieved of the irritating acid and gas, soon regains its normal tone and can do its work alone without the doubtful aid of artificial digestants.

CHURCH COUNCILS AGAINST ARMAMENTS

RESOLUTION IS PLACED BEFORE
CONGREGATIONAL MEETING AT NEW HAVEN.

CLAIMS IS NOT NECESSARY

Statement is Made That Germany
Won't Be Ready to Fight Again for Years.

By The Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25.—A resolution to place the National Council of Congregational churches on record against increased armaments in the United States was presented at today's sessions. Moderator C. M. Beardsley of Kansas City, after relinquishing the chair, offered an amendment which, in effect would ask all churches in the country to join in a movement against militarism and increased armaments and towards a path which would bring an early peace in Europe. After some debate it was decided to have the resolution printed and brought in this afternoon for adoption.

Rev. Dr. Gladden of Columbus, O., the committee chairman, endorsed the resolution. He did not agree with Rev. Mr. Aked that a league of neutral nations could stop the war in two months but did feel that neutral nations should do something toward that end.

"There is not a bit of sense in the view that this nation should arm itself mightily," said Dr. Gladden. "There has not been a day since Cornwallis surrendered in which there is so little danger of the nation being so little as I am mollycoddle and I don't think I am a fool but I do not want to see this nation rush into a military policy. What our nation should do is to hold its place, keep its peace and stand for the things which make peace."

Rev. C. E. Vincent of Washington, D. C., said he came from a center which is tense with military effort. It took Germany forty years to get ready to "punish Russia," although the 1870 unpleasantness with France was only a drop in the bucket compared with the present war and a high authority in Washington had told him that it would be sixty or seventy years before Germany could get on her feet after this war.

In the meantime the United States will have become 200,000,000 in population. He suggested that if our country destroys the saloon, spends its money educating those who come here up to American ideals and builds up moral character, no nation will have a quarrel with us.

Moderator Beardsley offered an amendment to the effect that the executive committee be directed to communicate with committees or heads of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches to secure such attitude of our political parties and of the governments of the world "as shall bring about peace and secure its maintenance."

Mr. Beardsley said that the underlying Christian sentiment in the country should have something to say about what goes into the platforms of the political parties at their convention next year.

Rev. C. F. Carter of Hartford thought the movement for peace had been impaired by the wave of militarism and the influx of wealth which is coming through trade in munitions and supplies, and there will be little nerve energy left for the peace movement. He believed the council should define its attitude dispassionately but in definite terms.

At this point so many delegates desired to be heard that further discussion was put over until assigned business had been disposed of.

Rev. H. A. Atkinson of Boston explained the report of the commission on social service and features of the report were emphasized by Fred B. Hill of Northfield, Minn. Mr. Hill said that the visit of Mr. Rockefeller to Colorado was because he was a religious man and a social reformer and conditions there had come to his notice.

Rev. Roy B. Guild made a report on church unity and the recommendation of the committee that negotiations looking to organic union with other bodies be continued, was adopted.

The National Council of Congregational churches adjourned until Wednesday on a resolution declaring for a militaristic policy. A resolution which seemed to voice the prevailing sentiment was placed in the care of a special committee.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Jefferson of New York City put in a sweeping resolution and Moderator H. M. Beardsley of Kansas City offered an amendment in much milder terms and these were sent to a special committee.

By The Associated Press.
New Orleans, Oct. 25.—Federal officials stated here today that investigation of the power yacht Two Sisters, which was driven ashore near Coteblanche, La., in last month's hurricane, had satisfied the authorities there was no foundation for the suspicion that the boat might be intended for participation in a rumored commerce raiding campaign by the Germans or in a filibustering expedition against Mexico.

Examination, it was said, revealed that the yacht was obtained at Galveston by a number of Germans, including several members of the German naval reserve who were eager to return to the fatherland and sought to use the boat for that purpose. No guns or arms were found on the yacht and the opinion was expressed that there was no violation of neutrality or other laws by the yacht and those aboard.

the printer. Late in the day when the council reassembled for consideration of the question there was further discussion.

Rev. Dr. C. R. Carter of Hartford, Conn., proposed a new draft which embraced parts of both of the original resolution and the amendment. Passage seemed assured of this compromise text when Rev. F. N. White of Walla Walla, Washington, wished it sent to the business committee.

Moderator Beardsley named a committee which will probably report on Wednesday.

The program of the day included the biennial meeting of the American Missionary Association.

A list of sixty corporate members was adopted. An incident was the declaration of Rev. G. C. Atkins of Providence to service, so that Rev. Dr. H. H. Proctor of Atlanta could be named, the first negro, it is thought, to be a corporate member of the body.

MELLEN'S LETTERS IN NEW HAVEN TRIALS

EX-PRESIDENT OF ROAD IDENTIFIES CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO MONOPOLY.

SOMEDATE BACK TO 1893-4

"Bitterest Antagonist" is What New England Road Is Called in the Correspondence.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 25.—Letters to and from Charles S. Mellen, which he identified today in the trial of the eleven New York, New Haven and Hartford directors on the charge of monopolizing New England's transportation traffic, furnished written evidence of the steps taken by the New Haven road to crush its principal competitor, the New York and New England railroad company.

The letters, dating back to 1893 and 1894, set forth the action taken by the New Haven to require the prepayment of freight charges by the New England on traffic interchanged between the two roads at connecting points and the steps taken to induce the trunk line railroads outside of New England to route their traffic over the New Haven instead of over the New England road which had connected with them by way of the Poughkeepsie bridge over the Hudson river.

"Our bitterest antagonist," was the appellation given to the New England in one letter which Mr. Mellen wrote to Charles P. Clark, president of the New Haven in discussing the question of the business the New England was getting from the Jersey Central, the Reading, the Lehigh Valley and the Baltimore and Ohio. Mr. Mellen was then second vice president in charge of traffic.

"Your whole attention seems to be to drive us out of business if you can," wrote H. C. Randolph, then general traffic manager of the New England to Mr. Mellen in protesting against the requirements for the prepayment of freight charges in cash, as expenses, your earnings on business to local points on our line, well knowing we must give two or three weeks credit before we can make a collection."

Mr. Mellen wrote back December 12, 1893, that no railroad is bound under any existing law to make joint rates, billing or divisions with any other railroad, unless it finds it is for its interest to do so. "What you aim at is to continue taking business to or from our local points by absorbing our arbitrary (rate) and then expect us to furnish that necessary capital or credit to help you deprive our stockholders of their earnings. You ask us to advance to you in cash, as expenses, your earnings on business to local points on our line, well knowing we must give two or three weeks credit before we can make a collection."

Mr. Mellen replied protesting that his road was being discriminated against to which the New Haven vice president replied that he might wait and see whether the rule was not applied to other roads with which the New Haven connected.

ALL IS NOT GOING WELL WITH INVADERS IN SERB TERRITORY

More than four kilometers (two and one-half miles) west of Komarow.

The German campaign in Courland is being interfered with by British and Russian submarines, which have stopped mercantile traffic to the Baltic ports, and one which has sunk the Prinz Adalbert, the sixth armored cruiser lost by Germany since the commencement of the war, the others being the Blücher, Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Yorck and Friedrich Karl.

German Statement.
Berlin, via London, Oct. 25.—The official communication issued today was as follows:

"Western theatre: In Champagne the French attacks near Tahure and our salient north of Les Mesnil, after strong preparation with their artillery. Near Tahure their attack was not carried out to its completion, having been stopped by our fire. Late in the afternoon stubborn fighting was in progress in salient north of Les Mesnil. North and east of this salient an attack was repulsed with severe French losses."

"Eastern theatre: Group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg south of Kekkau, southeast of Riga, a Russian attack was repulsed."

"Counter attacks made by the Russians against positions taken by us on the 23rd instant northwest of Dvinsk failed. The number of prisoners has now increased to 22 officers and 2765 men. Twelve machine guns and one mine thrower were captured."

"Weak German forces which had advanced north of Illouk over the sector Orsk, the same name, withdrew to the western bank of the river before the attack was carried out by superior forces."

"North of the Dniestr lake Russian attacks against our positions near Gaten frontier valley were unsuccessful."

"Group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: 'The position is unchanged.'"

"Group of General von Linsingen: West of Komarow the Austrian troops have penetrated the enemy position over a front four and one-half kilometers (about three miles) wide."

"Balkan theatre: At Vlashegrad, on the Bosnian frontier, the bridgehead position already won has been widened. West of the Kolihara the Tamnaha crossing northwest of Ub has been captured. The army of General von Koveess has reached the general line running through Lazarevac north of Arangelovaz and Rebrovac, west of Batari."

"The army of General von Gallwitz to the south of Jasenica stormed the commanding heights east of Banica and after a stubborn fight on the Morova plain, has taken Livadzi Zabar and east thereof reached the line of the Presna heights south of Petrovac and west of Molniza. In the Pek valley the heights west and southwest of Kucevo, have been captured."

"The troops which are advancing northwards, have penetrated further in a southerly direction and with their left wing have reached Slip on the Danube."

"The Bulgarian army of General Boyadjeff has taken the ridge of the mountains between peaks Preslavazava and Mikrovac twenty kilometers (twelve miles) north of Pirov."

"The enemy very violently counter attacked today in Champagne along the whole of the front of the fortified position La Courtine. We remain in possession of the positions taken to the east and the west, the Germans having succeeded in recouping in the center only some portions of the trenches, where the battle continues desperately with grenades."

"There is nothing of importance to record on the rest of the front."

"The Belgian official communication says that calm prevails along that front."

BESSE DAINTY SCORES AGAIN

Capacity House Registers Approval of
"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm,"
Second Week's Offering.

Like a violet in the black forest sod, or a song bird in the thorny desert—so delightfully refreshing that it seems almost incongruous, is "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," this week's offering by Miss Besse Dainty and her company at the Orpheum.

With the entire American stage almost taken over by the so-called "modern drama" and "problem plays," with their incessant manipulation of the ternal triangle, a play in which there is no villain and no problem is indeed a relief. Only natural influences and human traits are dealt with in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and how a whole New England village, typically narrow and cruelly gossipy, is reconstructed by the unconscious goodness of a child is the story.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" as the offering of the Dainty company for all this week, will continue to draw full houses because both the company and the play are deserving.

Last night saw the beginning of the second week of the program of the Besse Dainty company—a program so ambitious that its success thus far commands at once the respect of every follower of the stage. A succession of attractions that has never before been attempted in permanent stock in so small a city as Waco is planned by the company. Waco last night registered its approval of the program by representing itself at the first performance of the second week with almost as large a crowd as greeted Miss Dainty when she appeared last week for the first time as a returned favorite of last season. Ira E. Earle, manager of the company, announced last night that next week the company would present Harold Bell Wright's "The Shepherd of the Hills," following with Emma Bunting's success, "Help Wanted," and Margaret Livingston's "Kindling." The finished performance of Miss Dainty, Miss Arnsman, Mr. Earle, Mr. Castle, Mr. Elaine, Miss Titus, Miss Courtney and other members of the company is no new thing to Waco theatergoers, who remember the phenomenal run of the company last year at the Majestic and the Cozy, now the Orpheum. The absolutely new attraction therefore, is the scenic setting of the productions, which is the work of Mr. Hugo Miller, now permanently with the company. Perhaps Waco has never had the opportunity of seeing better, more natural and therefore less "stagey" settings than were built for "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and shown for the first time last night. Mr. Miller will paint and build special scenery for each of the plays which will be presented by the company during its stay here.

Perhaps Kate Douglas Wiggin designed her famous book for adaptation to the stage, but if she didn't it only illustrates the kinship between successful story writing and successful play writing. Even the most appreciative must admit the faultless construction of the play, which follows faithfully the action of the book. The theory of the inherent goodness of everybody was taken for granted early in the story, and the influence precipitated into the midst of the discord which had drowned out most of the goodness of some of the people in the story was the wholesomeness of Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm.

A Sad Blow.
"Well, how did your ticket come out in the primaries?"
"Crooked methods beat us," answered the Plunkville candidate. "We were fixing to offer $2 for votes and the other side came along offering $5. It's a heavy blow to reform."—Kansas City Journal.

MAN AND BOY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

MOTORCYCLE RUN BY FRED TRUITT RUNS INTO REAR OF CAR ON WHITEHALL ROAD.

ESCAPE FROM DEATH NARROW

Little Frank Chesley Not Badly Hurt, but Truitt's Injuries May Prove Serious.

Fred Truitt, thirty-first and Jefferson, and little eight-year-old Frank Chesley of Tulsa, Okla., were badly bruised and the former possibly seriously injured about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a motorcycle upon which they were riding collided with an automobile, five miles out on the Whitehall road. The boy was thrown to the side of the road by the impact but Truitt, with the motorcycle, hung on the rear hub of the car until it could be stopped.

The auto was driven by Mrs. H. Wunderlich, Mrs. Charles Witt being with her. As they went to turn a corner the motorcycle came dashing along and smashed into the auto, which was battered somewhat but not badly damaged. Had the car been going fast the chances would have been against Truitt's escaping instant death.

The injured boy, Frank Chesley, is a half brother of Mrs. Harvey B. Ross, and, with his mother, was visiting the Ross Home. He is badly bruised and his face is skinned up considerably, but his injuries did not seem serious last night. Frank said that the motorcycle was going fast, that he had asked Mr. Truitt not to go so fast, and that Mr. Truitt had told him to hold on tight and was bending over (evidently trying to fix something), when the smash up occurred. It is believed by Mrs. Chesley that Truitt had lost control of the motorcycle.

At a late hour last night physicians were not sure just how serious Mr. Truitt's injuries were, and, as he was under the effect of opium, he had been unable to tell his version of how the accident happened. His back seemed to be painful him, one knee and one arm are hurt and one of his ears is torn loose. It is possible that he is injured internally. The injured man and boy were taken to their respective homes by Dr. Witt immediately after the accident.

Jack disliked being kissed, and, being a handsome little chap, sometimes had a good deal to put up with. One day he had been kissed a lot. Then, to make matters worse, on going to the picture palace in the evening, instead of his favorite cowboy and Indian pictures there was nothing but a lot of hugging and kissing.

He returned home completely out of patience with the whole tribe of women. After he had been tucked into bed mother came in to kiss him good-night.

He refused to be kissed.
Mother begged and begged, till in disgust he turned to his father, who was standing at the doorway looking on, and said:
"Daddy, for the love of Mike, give this woman a kiss."—Tit-Bits.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

If Croup, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Dinner Is Given to Coach Tyson and Hi Football Eleven

Coach P. L. Tyson of the high school football eleven was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night by V. Wilson, quarterback, at the home of his parents in South Waco. The popular coach, who also is regarded as a personal friend by "every kid on the squad," reached another milestone in his life's journey yesterday and the dinner was of that character which makes one wish birthdays were not a year apart.

Mrs. Wilson did not overlook anything that could add to the boys' enjoyment of the affair. Her arrangements were as elaborate as for some formal reception. The dining room was beautiful in the school colors of white and gold, a combination which permits of the most effective use of chrysanthemums. These were used lavishly on the table and about the diningroom. Place cards made of miniature footballs seated the guests, which included besides the guest of honor, Principal E. T. Genheimer of the high school and the "jersey members" of the football squad.

A feature of the decorations which appealed particularly to the players was the arrangement of victorious game scores over the transoms. Over one in striking figures was the legend, "121 to 0," over another "55 to 0," and over the third the score of the Hubbard game.

Pepper talks were made by some of the players, while Coach Tyson did his best to show the feeling he had for his squad individually, collectively, as "kids" and as players and as a team.

Principal Genheimer's talk was along the line of his "hobby" in sports—a theme the players never tire of hearing—that of clean sportsmanship. The principal is thumb prints vary—so do bodies— wear "tailored-to-measure" clothes

IN millions of thumb prints no two alike, in all the world no faces alike—and bodies are as varied as thumb prints.

Expecting a ready for service suit to really fit you is much like expecting your grandfather's spectacles to improve your sight.

Worth while clothes that truly fit must be tailored to measure—to your measure—carefully, accurately, individually. That's true!

a stickler for the manly quality and is always keeping it before his teams. As a result the Waco High School is noted for its clean tactics. Mr. Genheimer also prodded the boys a bit on the subject of keeping up in their studies. "No grade, no jersey" is an iron-clad rule of Waco high school and while some of the athletes are hurt when kept out of championship games, the next week will find them right to the mark in all four subjects.

Many a good laugh was had at the speechmaking efforts of some of the boys. Some "big old kid" who hits the line like a pile-driver or who spills opposing interference as easy as Molly spills the milk found it a lot different sort of job to tell the crowd how it feels to drop a fifty-yard pass in front of 2000 or 3000 expectant co-students who don't know the meaning of the word alibi.

School Loyalty Is Subject of Chapel Talk by Genheimer

School loyalty, democratic spirit and the power of organized support by the student body to athletics was the subject of Professor Genheimer's chapel talk Monday morning. Mr. Genheimer stressed the good impression made by the young girls who, dressed in school colors, formed an important feature of the Hi with over Fort Worth last Saturday. "Why, that little band of girls," he said, "was as effective in its support as all the rest of those in the grandstand."

It is understood an effort will be made to drill the student body in a new series of yells for the Austin game. In this connection, a special meeting may be called, which will be open to suggestions for new yells and new ideas in preparation for the Austin game on Friday, November 5 at Carroll Field, Baylor.

Some disappointment was felt at the necessity for a change of date for this game, as it was hoped if it came during the Cotton Palace an effort might be made by Austin Hi supporters to bring a special train to Waco for the game. This may be done, however, in spite of the change of date. Austin again looms as the probable champion if it can beat Waco, and the great showing of the latter eleven is said to have put a strong doubt in the minds of Austin supporters.

But whether just a comes with a couple of hundred rooters or not, the game is sure to bring a big crowd, and the student body might just as well be organized into rooters, with effective yells as not. Instead of a dozen girls in white with gold trimmings, it should be easy for a hundred and fifty of them to occupy a section in the stand by themselves, surrounded by the boys and girls not dressed in colors. And every one of them should have a pennant. This force, properly drilled and effectively coached can have a mighty strong influence on the result of the Austin game, and, incidentally, bringing the high school championship to Waco—to say nothing of the revenge on the Capital City team for its crushing defeat last year.

An effort is being made by the football managers to get a game with Cameron Hi for next Saturday. The Cameron team is particularly strong this year and is said to have made both Austin and San Antonio hustle to beat them. It is hoped this game can be secured, as it would serve to afford comparisons in the strength of Waco and Austin.

Healthy Old Age Brings Happiness

Simple Remedy Promotes Health by Overcoming Tendency to Constipation.

Advancing years impair the action of the vital organs. Old age should be the period of greatest happiness, but good health is necessary. Constipation should not be tolerated—it is often the direct cause of ill health. Heartache, belching, biliousness, bloating, drowsiness after eating and other symptoms of constipation can be readily relieved by the use of a simple laxative compound sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. J. H. Bristol, 1412 Geddes Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich., who is 83 years old, says, "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy I ever used for constipation and I always have a bottle of it in the house to use when I feel the need of it; it never disappoints."

MR. J. H. BRISTOL.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative preparation, positive in its effect, acting easily and naturally without griping or other pain or discomfort. For over a quarter of a century it has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

ALUMNI COMMITTEE PLAYS SPECIAL

FORMER STUDENTS OF A. AND M.
AND UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS WILL GO TO GAME AT BRYAN.

WILL BOOST COTTON PALACE

Efforts Will Be Made to Get State Institutions to Schedule Games in Waco Next Year.

It will be some special train that the University of Texas and A. and M. alumni will take to College Station Friday, November 19, to witness the football game between those two institutions. The committee in charge of plans met last night in the office of R. J. Potts in the Amicable and the purpose of the trip were outlined as follows:

To get either the state university or A. and M. or both for a football game in Waco during the Cotton Palace next year.

To get the game between the two institutions in 1917 for the Cotton Palace if possible.

And last, but not least, to see the game itself.

Special rates have been made by both the I. & G. N. and the H. & T. C. but the committee has yet decided which route will be chosen. The decision will rest largely on the character of the equipment and the time promised for the return trip, as the society hall at the Cotton Palace comes the same night. The decision will be made this week and tickets both for the trip and for admission to the game will be placed on sale by the latter part of the week. It is planned to take a band along.

Indications are that the crowd will be any where from 200 to 500 strong. Literature will be taken along advertising the Cotton Palace, Waco and Baylor, and C. A. Gant, director of athletics at Baylor, has promised to make the trip and personally invite the A. & M. and State University managers to play Baylor at the Cotton Palace next year.

It is felt that there will be a better chance to get games with A. and M. and State against Baylor than any other teams on account of the fine showing that the Bears are making this year. But if State and A. and M. will not consent to play games in Waco against Baylor, an effort will be made to get them to schedule contests against other colleges for the Cotton Palace.

A committee from the alumni meeting visited the meeting of the Cotton Palace directors last night and the latter gave their hearty endorsement to the proposition and promised co-operation. The Young Men's Business League and the Chamber of Commerce will also be asked to co-operate in making the trip one that will reflect credit on the Cotton Palace and make a good impression on the faculties and student bodies of the two institutions.

A. M. E. Conference for Central Texas Begins Tomorrow

About one hundred and twenty-five ministers will be in attendance besides a large number of visitors. The new St. Paul church is said to be one of the best religious edifices owned by negroes in Texas, if not in the entire south. The contract price for the expenditure of $25,000 without the furnishings. It was formally opened October 17 with an elaborate program marked by the attendance of a number of white people. Rev. W. D. Miller is pastor.

The conference will be presided over by Bishop C. S. Smith of Detroit, Mich., who is regarded as one of the leading thinkers of his race in this country. He assumed charge of the affairs of the A. M. E. church in this state in May, 1912, and since that time under his leadership the laity have contributed $40,000 for the support and improvement of Paul Quinn college.

The sessions of the conference will be open to the public and a cordial welcome is extended to all who may desire to attend. Tonight the delegates to the conference will be given a banquet at St. Paul's church.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but Is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup. It is made from one drug store 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and breaks the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with quacal and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation, The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW MAY BE ATTRACTION

COTTON PALACE DIRECTORS TO TRY TO BRING MANY FINE
CARS TO EXPOSITION.

MORE RACE HORSES ARRIVE

Dog Show Committee Will Start Out
This Morning to Solicit Entries.

An effort will be made to have an automobile show in connection with the Cotton Palace next month. A committee of Waco automobile dealers consisting of Percy Willis, J. Mitchell Nash and W. E. Brown appeared before the directors last night in regard to the matter and Mr. Brown and Cal Dennison were appointed as a committee from the Cotton Palace to go to Dallas today and see if the state agents for various autos could be induced to bring their exhibits, now at the state fair, to Waco. If so, a big tent will be erected to house the cars.

Every director will be a deputy sheriff during the coming exposition, for Deputy Sheriff Fred N. Oliver brought them their commissions, each signed by Sheriff S. S. Fleming last night.

As an additional feature for the cotton parade on the morning of the opening day, wagons of cotton seed will be found in the line of march. Governor James E. Ferguson will lead the parade, driving six mules, as he did last year. J. M. Cornett, H. Winchell and V. N. Damon, managers of local cotton oil mills, have been added to the cotton parade committee, of which W. J. Neale is chairman.

Victor Bunata and F. H. Woytek of the committee in charge of Bohemian Day, reported that the Bohemians were taking more interest than ever and that large numbers of them would be present on their special day.

Robert Nickels, racing secretary, reported last night that ten or twelve harness horses and a number of running horses would be in this morning and that indications were that the best bunch of horses that had been gathered in Texas this year would be here for the Cotton Palace races.

One of the special free attractions this year will be a man who will allow an automobile, filled with men, to run over him on the race track in front of the grandstand, twice each day.

The installing of the big electrical illuminated clock at the entrance to the warpath, with the big hands whirling around all the time was authorized last night.

The dog show committee will start out this morning to solicit entries for the coming show at the Cotton Palace. The indications are that the show this year will be the greatest dog show that has ever been held anywhere in the southwest. The committee is composed of Ralph McLendon, Dr. J. W. Hale and W. A. Holt.

This committee will endeavor to get in touch with everybody in Waco who owns anything in the form of a dog. It is desired that at least 300 dogs shall be entered from Waco. If this number of dogs are entered it will make the Cotton Palace dog show compare favorably with any similar show in the country.

It is hoped the people of Waco will show their usual patriotism and good feeling toward the Cotton Palace by receiving the members of the committee with a smile, and a quick and ready response to enter their animals in the show.

The dog show at the Cotton Palace last year proved to be one of the most attractive features of the exposition. Some of the classiest dogs in the United States will be some dogs in the show that are worth as much as automobiles or a California bungalow.

Get busy and polish up your pet and sign an entry blank when the committee calls upon you.

Shriners Coming from at Least Three of Texas Temples

At an enthusiastic meeting of the local Shriners, held last night in the new Masonic temple, it was stated that responses had been received from officers and members of the temples at Austin, Dallas and Fort Worth, promising a good attendance for Shriners' Day at the Cotton Palace. Invitations have also been sent to the three other temples in the state.

One of the unique features of the Shriners' hall will be huge ice bowls, which E. F. Beaman of the Geyser Ice company has promised to freeze, with the name of each of the six Texas temples in each. Alessandro's orchestra will furnish the music.

The finance committee will have its report ready by Thursday, it was stated last night, and all other committees are rapidly getting everything ready for the big event.

PERSONAL MENTION.

D. M. Wilson and wife have returned from a trip to the Dallas fair.

J. H. Norwood was among the visitors from Austin on the streets here yesterday.

Mrs. R. L. Matthews has returned from Dallas after a visit of several days at the fair.

J. E. Baine, commercial agent of the Louisiana Railway & Navigation company, was in the city yesterday afternoon from his Dallas office.

W. R. Daniels, traveling passenger agent of the Texas & Pacific and the International & Great Northern railroads, was in the city yesterday from his Dallas office.

DEATHS

Charles C. Hale Dies.
Charles C. Hale died yesterday morning at the residence of his father, F. E. Hale, Fifteenth and Morrow. Mr. Hale was 35 years of age and is survived by one brother and two sisters other than his father. Interment will be made in Bosqueville today.

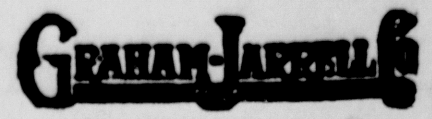

A Stinging Rebuke.
Robert Goelet said in Newport, apropos of a recent scandalous matter.

"It reminds me of a very trenchant anecdote. A young married woman at a daisant on the piazza of a seashore hotel went up to a pretty girl in white who had been tangoing like mad with her husband and said:

"I've got a last year's coat suit that's quite good, really. To be sure, it's a hobbie look. Still, would you like to have it?"

"The girl blushed red with confusion. "What?" she said. "Do you think I'd wear your cast-off clothes?"

"T. T. Dallas, you might," hissed the young married woman. "You seem anxious to get my husband."—Exchange.

Meeting Is Called at Library Tomorrow on Public Health

Business and professional men of the city are requested to respond along with the women to the joint call for the rally in behalf of the public health of Waco that has been scheduled for the public library at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The call is issued by the president of the City Federation of Women's clubs, the City Federation of Missionary societies and the city health board, and the immediate object is to devise ways and means for raising a sum with which to defray the expenses of a public health nurse during the approaching winter months.

From past experience it is known that a nurse is frequently more valuable than a physician in many charity cases that come up. A little careful nursing, it is said, will bring many of the patients back to health and result in the improvement of the sanitary conditions about the place and the general methods of living, whereas, a casual call from a physician would perhaps produce only temporary results.

The women of the city have borne the expense of employing such a nurse, for the most part, for the last several months. They believe the provision of the sympathy and co-operation of the men as well, and they want both the men and the women to be on hand Wednesday afternoon to consider the question.

HIPPODROME.

German War Pictures.
In the first genuine war films showing at the Hippodrome again today under the auspices of the New York Staats-Zeitung, among many exciting and interesting scenes is a feature brought out that the soldiers do most of their fighting at night. An automatic searchlight is used which is raised toward the sky some thirty or forty feet, to provide light when necessary.

An apparently unbearable snowstorm in the battle of Ypres seems to have little or no effect upon the soldiers who are seen digging and fighting as though in the sunshine. A more pleasing sight, which follows the snowstorm scene, is the officers' club, which is in a dugout, where wine is served, and another is on Easter morning when the soldiers are recipients of gifts from home, and along with this comes a trainload of hogs. Furs are also distributed to the soldiers in the trenches. The heavy April rains, which follow the snowstorm, fill the trenches with water, making an added hardship on the soldiers.

In the matter of authority of war films being shown in America, the Pathe company have shown many scenes photographed from the French lines. These pictures under the auspices of the New York Staats-Zeitung are the first to be shown, photographed from the German hide. Both sides of the war are shown in these German films, the fighting side and the pleasant side. Several scenes show the courage of the soldiers, and others show them enjoying themselves smoking and drinking moderately when the day is done.

It is probable that 100,000 soldiers are shown in these German war films and it is probable that that many dollars were spent in ammunition during the time the pictures were made. This expense was not chargeable to the making of moving pictures, but to the cause of war, the human man being enlisted along with the soldiers and his duty was to make pictures of events. The ending of this film shows a subtitle reading, "The End. Let us have peace."

Count Drevenoff's dissolute son is offered a large sum of money by the head of the Japanese spy system in Washington to deliver to him a secret treaty in Count Drevenoff's possession. This treaty was made between Russia and the United States when Russia was falling from disaster to disaster in her war with Germany. A grave break between Japan and the United States, should the former get possession of it. The son succeeds in getting the paper, but is discovered by his father, Count Drevenoff, who is stealing the treaty. He is sent to the war in disgrace, where he is killed. The paper falls into the hands of one Dr. Morse, an American surgeon, serving with the Russian army. A Jap spy sees this, and is murdered. Ashton-Kirk takes up the case, and after unraveling many mysteries and having some exciting experiences, manages to have the treaty from falling into the wrong hands, thus averting war.

Tonight, Mabel Riegelman.

There is no one in opera to whom we Texans are more pleased to render praise and fealty than to Mabel Riegelman. She is almost a Texan, for our own city of Amarillo was her home for years. She appeals to us as one of our own and even if we were not prejudiced in her favor, we should, in good conscience, acclaim her as a younger star worthy to be associated with the older stars in the firmament. Her voice has, in addition to the requisite cultivation and native melody, a girlish freshness that comes out over the footlights and lodges in the receptive consciousness of her hearers. As a lyric soprano she deserves to win the wider recognition to which she so worthily aspires, indeed she has won much of same already in America, where she has sung four seasons with the Chicago company and in Europe. Her role of Musette was all that we could ask.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Miss Riegelman sang in concert yesterday afternoon at the Columbia theatre. Her tones are exquisitely pure and even. There is no break between the registers and her notes came easily and clearly from any pitch. Miss Riegelman sang a program big in its variety. Opening with the aria from Mozart's "Don Giovanni," which disclosed her emotional and dramatic ability, she plunged into a group of Schubert, followed by two of Schumann. Her German is faultless, and she loses nothing of her sympathy nor clear enunciation in the Italian or English.

BAYLOR DEBATERS TO MEET S. M. U. AND LOUISIANA STATE

Debates with the University of Louisiana and the Southern Methodist University have been arranged by the Oratorical Association of Baylor University following a conference at Dallas during the past week by representatives of the three universities. According to the agreement Baylor will send a team to Baton Rouge to contest with Louisiana while S. M. U. will meet a team at Carroll chapel. Both contests are scheduled during the early part of April and the local contestants will be chosen from the winners in the Dancer debate. The two highest ranking men will meet the Louisiana university while the third and fourth will go against S. M. U. Baylor also has a contest with Southwestern university which will be held at Georgetown. The winning team in the extemporaneous debate will go against the latter school. E. D. Guthrie of Waco has been added to the list of Dancer debaters caused by the resignation of Louis Hale, one of the Philo nominees. Guthrie won second place in the local oratorical contest last year and was also a member of one of the summer debate teams.

Cottonseed Brings Around $35 a Ton

Cotton seed kept up its high record in the local markets yesterday, bringing $35 per ton usually. In special lots and quantities the price paid by some of the mill men was slightly in advance of this price, but the general market of the seed was quoted at $35.

The season this year opened with seed at a low price and the first few days the prices quoted by the oil men over the state were around $20, but in a short while the price advanced until it reached the maximum of $35 in some cases in Waco. This was the highest price ever paid for seed in the memory of the local buyers, but in a few days it began falling again to a more normal basis. The price, though, seemed to be reached when the price had dropped around $32 to $33 and it has since then hung around this level.

MOB LAW OPPOSED BY ROTARIANS DISCUSS COLLEGE PRESIDENTS COMING CONFERENCE

MOVEMENT TO AROUSE PUBLIC SENTIMENT SET ON FOOT AT MEETING HERE.

STATEMENT TO BE DRAFTED PURE FOOD SANITIST PRESENT

Dr. C. M. Bishop of Southwestern University Says Lynchings Average Ten a Month.

Characterizing mob law as a widespread moral disease and anarchy in action, a movement looking toward arousing public sentiment in the South against it was set on foot at Baylor University last night at a conference of a few of the presidents of church colleges in Texas. The meeting was called by Dr. C. M. Bishop, president of Southwestern university, Georgetown, who explained that he felt that somebody ought to start a movement for the redemption of the South in this direction, and declared that he felt that the presidents of Christian colleges should take the initiative, partly because of their Christian responsibility, and partly because of their opportunity to seek the enlistment in the movement of the pulpit and the press of their respective churches.

As a result of the deliberations of those present it was decided to have Dr. Bishop, the leader in the movement, draft a statement on the subject and then submit it to all the presidents of church colleges of a rank in the state for their approval, after which it will be submitted to the daily and weekly press of the state for publication.

Dr. Bishop was elected president of the conference and Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor university, secretary. In explaining the purpose of the meeting, Dr. Bishop said, in part: "Within the last thirty years more than 3,000 persons have been lynched in the South. This is an average of ten a month or one every three or four days. There has been much of protest and horror expressed in certain quarters and through certain channels, but our refined sentiments, religious feelings and the majesty of the law have been continually outraged and outraged by the same thing being found. So far as I know no participant in the murder of any one of these 3,000 persons lynched in the South has ever been convicted and punished. There are plenty of alleged excuses for mob law, such as the delays and technicalities of the law, and the attitude of the public, for the most part, has been that of excusing and palliating the crime or else indifference. The rest papers of this section of the country have come out strongly in opposition to mob violence for the last ten years, but in spite of that we noticed during the summer that the lynchings ended we had four lynchings in this state within two weeks, one at Temple, two at Sulphur Springs and one at Shiner.

All stands out in the character of the South as a blind spot. We apparently do not see the hideousness of it, the shame that it casts upon us throughout the world, how it blunts our moral sensibilities and how it will eventually destroy our religious life. We talk about and decry anarchists, but lynching is anarchy gone mad and we have it with us, whether we want it or not. Lawlessness in every form is one of the results of it. We used to think that criminal assault was one crime that justified mob law, but not one-fifth of the crimes committed by persons who are lynched involve criminal assault."

Dr. Bishop called attention to the fact that by reason of their relations to the youth of the land, the respect which they command and the influence which they wield, they are in a position to reach the people of the South themselves are the only ones who can overcome the tendency to lynch persons charged with crime and such methods as are tried to eradicate it must be those that can be adapted to local conditions. It was agreed that the public sentiment of the South must be aroused on the subject and that to do this a movement must be inaugurated looking to a careful study of the mob law proposition from a sociological, legal, religious and educational standpoint and it is believed that a meeting looking to the inauguration of such a study organization of the enrollment of the college presidents in the pronouncement that will be issued soon.

Some consideration was given to calling a state convention on the subject, to represent every phase of life and thought in the state, but no definite action along this line was taken.

Pastors Discuss Question of Best and Worst in City

What constitutes both the best and the worst things in the city of Waco formed the subject of an interesting discussion by the members of the Pastors' association of the city at the regular monthly meeting of that organization in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Practically every pastor present participated in the discussion and numerous things were commented upon, but no formal decision was reached. Each speaker was limited to three minutes. At the next monthly meeting on the fourth Monday in November the subject of the general discussion will be "The Condemnable and the Commendable Features of the Cotton Palace."

The committee on the establishment of a free employment bureau was not prepared to report and was continued.

PLANS LAID FOR ENTERTAINMENT IN WACO OF INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT.

Mrs. Elizabeth Darwin Outlines Man-ner in Which She Does Her Work.

Definite plans for the entertainment of Dr. Allen D. Albert, international president of Rotary clubs, who will be in Waco next Sunday and Monday, as the guest of Waco Rotarians, were laid at the weekly meeting and luncheon of the local club at the State House yesterday at noon. While President Albert is visiting the various clubs in this district, his visit to Waco has special significance in that the conference for the Texas district will be held here at the same time, attended by delegates from the eleven local clubs in the state and the one at Shreveport, La.

Other officials of Rotary included in the party will be Bob Cornell of Houston, one of the international vice presidents, and W. H. Richardson of Austin, governor of the Texas district, while President Albert will be accompanied by his wife and daughter. The purpose of the conference here will be to study various problems connected with the carrying out of the Rotary program and it is especially desired that every Rotarian in Waco arrange to attend the conference, which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms during the day. It will be the best opportunity local members have ever had to get fully acquainted with the full purpose and scope of the international organization and the greatest educational advantage that has ever been afforded them, President Nettles declared.

Dr. Albert and his family and possibly the other high officials of Rotary who will be here will arrive in the city Sunday morning from San Antonio and spend the day at the hotel. They will be given an auto ride during the afternoon and shown such other courtesies as the wishes of the guests may dictate. Dr. Albert has been invited to deliver a lecture at the First Baptist church Sunday night, but his acceptance of this invitation has not as yet been received.

Conference on Monday.

The larger part of Monday will be given over to the conference on Rotary matters, which will take the form of a luncheon at the State House Monday at noon and at 7:30 Monday night there will be a banquet at the State House in honor of President Albert and at which he will deliver the principal address. He is especially interested in the civic development of cities and it is presumed his message will be along that line, on which he is considered one of the best authorities in the country. At the same hour, perhaps, a reception will be tendered Mrs. Albert and her daughter and such other women as may be members of the party by the wives, sisters and women friends of the Rotarians.

President B. C. Nettles, Past President J. M. Penland and E. F. Drake constitute the general committee on the entertainment of the international president and other visitors, and they have named the following additional committeemen to assist in looking after the various details: On autos and auto rides, L. E. Luedde, Bruce Duncan and T. H. Williams; reception, Dr. S. P. Brooks, Prof. B. B. Cobb, Dr. L. L. McGlasson, W. D. Lacy Jr. and R. J. Potts; program, W. W. Woodson, Dr. J. L. Kesler and Dr. John L. Davis.

The announcement was made at the Rotary luncheon yesterday that the weekly luncheon will not be held Monday at noon next week, but after further consideration of the matter by the board of directors it was decided to have the luncheon at the usual hour, the conference will not interfere with that in any way.

Mrs. Elizabeth Darwin, sanitist of the state pure food and drug department, was present by special invitation and outlined in a way the work she expects to do here in the hope of bringing about the co-operation of the grocers, dairymen, butchers and other food purveyors in securing greater care in their handling of foodstuffs. She inquired about the time they receive their shipments in the city in response to requests from numerous citizens and while she is clothed with the authority of the state she hopes to be able to accomplish her purpose without having to exercise that authority.

She expects to, in company with delegations of city officials, health officers and citizens of the city generally, call upon the various dairies, grocers, bakers and other food purveyors supplying the trade of the city, and by giving them helpful instruction on the proper handling of the food from the time they receive it into their places until it is delivered to the consumer, enlist their co-operation in the better handling of food supplies. She said it had been her experience that the dealers in food supplies were glad to co-operate in the movement if they were approached in an agreeable manner and that is the way she is trying to approach all of them. Meat are not housekeepers by nature and do not recognize some of the finer points in handling groceries until they are called to their attention by women and practical housekeepers, she added. The more wide awake they receive the appeals for keeping his wares perfectly sanitary, she observed.

Mrs. Darwin announced that she will begin her work here with the dairies and invited the Rotarians, not as citizens or Rotarians so much as consumers of food and the fathers of innocent young children, to accompany her on some of her rounds and see what the people do not have because they have not demanded it, she said; and recited how that the people were paying great sums with which to fight the white plague, but that the men were not looking into the character of milk supplied their children, though statistics show that 25 per cent of the tuberculosis that develops among children comes from infected milk. Consumers need education as much as the dealers in food do, she concluded, and appealed to those present to patronize those food supply houses which keep themselves sanitary and that all other houses will be forced to clean up also.

Co-operation Pledged.

Miss Kate Friend, who was present by invitation, also, said the time had arrived when the fathers should join the mothers in a demand for pure food as a protection to the health of the household. Many grocers will throw off any kind of unfit foodstuff upon the customer if the customer will stand for it, she said. Mrs. B. C. Nettles, wife of the president of the Rotary club, was also present, but refused to make an address.

On the motion of W. W. Woodson, the Rotary club thanked Mrs. Darwin for her address and pledged its co-operation in carrying out the program which she has outlined for this city.

Dr. John L. Davis, medical director of the Amicable Life Insurance company, newly elected member of the club, was present for the first time and made a brief address following his introduction to the club.

W. A. Poage, regular orator for the day, spoke briefly, urging that inasmuch as the Rotarians were presumed to represent the best men in the profession that they live up to that profession and do everything in their power to make Waco the best town in the state.

A letter was read by the secretary from the Rotary club at Tampa, Fla., asking that the local club appeal to the congressman in this district for federal aid, through the department of agriculture, in stamping out the citrus canker, a pest that is working havoc with the citrus fruit industry of that state.

Examining Trial for Ray Webb to Be Held Tomorrow

The examining trial of Ray Webb, charged with murder in connection with the killing of his father Sunday morning before Justice Giles P. Lester. Young Webb is in the county jail, and refuses to talk about the tragedy. The scalp wounds, self-inflicted, that he received at the time of the shooting, are not considered dangerous.

Harlan King, an eyewitness to the affair, told practically the same story to Assistant County Attorney D. C. Woods yesterday as he was given in yesterday's Morning News. So far as his story goes, nothing gives any clue to the cause of the shooting. King says that he did not know, could not tell, that either of the Webbs were angry. A few words passed as to how Ray Webb should get to town. The next, according to King's story, Ray went to the house, got his shotgun and revolver, shot his father and then shot himself with the revolver.

Justice W. A. Teer of Mart held an inquest at the scene of the shooting, deciding that J. H. Webb came to his death from gunshot wounds.

Funeral services for J. H. Webb were held yesterday afternoon from the family residence, interment being at Lone Oak cemetery near Battle.

Call meeting of J. H. Gurley Lodge No. 337 will be held in the new Masonic Temple, 7:30 p. m. Work in the F. C. Degree. Visiting brethren invited.
